Book Reading And Discussion On It :

Building the habit of reading among students help them to improve the ability to empathize, communication skill and also provide them with valuable life lessons. Reading helps develop imagination and language skills, increase grasping power, vocabulary etc. Due to reading habit, their writing skill also improves. It also increases the cognitive ability and strengthens their knowledge.

Thus, the programmes offered by college provide scope for book reading and discussions on recent policies and regulations. To make the students aware about the changes going on in the education system, teachers at Late Shree Govindrao Wanjari College of Education conduct seminars on recent policies and regulations which are issued by the government. The different policies which have been discussed are draft of NEP 2019, RTE Act, NCF – 2005, policies related to girl child, policy regarding yoga etc. Thus, efforts are made in this direction to remain updated with the developments.

Through seminars and discussions on recent policies with students, they are made aware of the educational issues and policies.
